

See Y'all at IASL2021 – Online!

Yes, we'll hold the IASL Conference and Research Forum virtually in July 2021, so everyone anywhere can attend!

We're excited that registration fees will be lower, opportunities for participation will be higher, and our interactions will globally impact the world of school librarianship.

"Everything's bigger in Texas" so the 2021 Conference Planning Committee is investigating ways that all attendees can view real-time and recorded presentations, participate in live discussions in every time zone, and connect with one another as we share research and best practices toward future collaborations.

The pandemic has changed so much, but it hasn't changed how much our students and communities need our expertise and skills as we navigate this new world together.

I invite you to experience our signature blend of learning and camaraderie from the comfort and safety of your own home/office during our 50th birthday celebration next year.

Stay safe, stay well, and stay connected!
